"The situation in the North Pacific is different. I have long felt that the trade routes of the Pacific should not be left without the protection of the British flag and that Canada in that British flag and that Canada in that respect has an important duty to perform. What I said at Boston four years ago is true of the situation to-day, and that was that the time had arrived when the guardianship of the Pacific should be accepted by the four English-speaking nations of the Pacific should be accepted by the four English-speaking nations of the Pacific should be accepted by the four English-speaking nations of the Pacific Australia and New Zealand. "For itself, the Globe did its utmost to urge the government to do what it understood Mr. Borden had definitely promised, and that was to consult the people on the navy issue," said Dr. Macdonald when asked his opinion on the prime minister's failure to appeal to the people on the naval issue. "A very large body of public opinion in Canada, if party interests were not involved, would vote against both the Laurier and Borden proposals. Liberals and Conservatives by the thousands are not impressed with the necessity for any great expenditure on the navy, either as a contribution to the Admiralty or for a Canadian fleet. geles, July 10, 11 and 12. On his way home he will address the Canadian Club of Yictoria.

Referring to reciprocity between Canada and the United States as an issue, Dr. Macdonald said:

"The thing that is an issue and will remain an issue is the question of better trade relations. Canada must have larger markets for her output. For myself I have long held to the sound British doctrine that foodstuffs of the people should be untaxed. The tariff bill now before congress will, if enacted, give some relief to our producers, but none for our gonsumers. I think the tariff will be the big issue before parliament next session, I cannot speak for the Liberal party, but the Toronto Globe stands as it has always stood, for a reduction of tariff taxation, especially on foodstuffs, If the United States reduces its tariff the question of tariff on manufactured goods, especially agricultural and other implements will become a live issue in Canada. The farmers of Canada will see to it that the issue affecting their welfare is kept to the front."

MAY DROP FAST MAIL CHICAGO TO SEATTLE

Seattle, June 27.—L. C. Gilman, assistant to the president of the Great Northern Railroad, with headquarters in Seattle. yesterday received information from the head office at St. Paul that the company was considering dropping the fast mail train from Chicago, which makes the run between St. Paul and Seattle in 47 hours, 30 minutes. All mail would then be carried on the regular passenger trains. The Great Northern mail service, headed by W. S. Baskerville, is opposed to the proposed plan of the postoffice department to pay the railroads on the basis of a space measurement instead of weight.

Dr. Lauro Muller Will Reach Sar Francisco To-night and Remain Qne Week.

San Francisco, June 27.—Dr. Lauro Muller, Brazilian minister of foreign affairs and special plenipotentiary to the United States, is expected to arrive here at 9 o'clock to-night. A reception committee of distinguished military and civil authorities will greet the minister and cavalry and mounted police will escort him to the hotel where he will stay.

As it is anticipated that the minister will be fatigued by his long journey, all unnecessary formalities will be dispensed with for the evening and the formal call of Mayor Rolph and President Charles C. Moore, of the Panama-Pacific Exposition will not be paid until Saturday morning.

The programme for Dr. Muller's entertainment covers almost the entire week, and includes the dedication of the site for the Brazilian building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

SEARCHING FOR DEAD.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 27.—One hundered and fifty men, led by E. M. Huested, president of the Huested Milling Company, whose plant was wrecked by a grain dust explosion Tuesday with great loss of life, continued the search at to-day for bodies believed to be buried a beneath tons of steel, concrete and charred timbers.

The death list stood at four to-day. The missing list new carries twelve names, nine of whom, it is believed, will be found in the ruins.

The same enthusiasm prevails as was manifested eight months ago. Convalescents from the hospitals, as soon as they are at all able, join their respective regiments, which march through the streets on their way to the station, led by military bands or shouting "Yra" and singing the war songs. The batitafield near Silvnitzs can be described from the towers of the new cathedral in Sofia, but the capital is so surrounfed by natural fortifications, well manned, that the Bulgarians, confident of the strength of their weapons, feel no fear.

JOHNSON ESCAPES TO CANADIAN SOIL

Cannot Be Extradited and Intends Sailing to Europe on Sunday

Ottawa, June 27.—16 Jack Johnson, the negro susilist, who is under $15,000 used in Chicago pending appeal from conviction in a white slavery case, and unexpectedly came to Canada, does at once prove to the immigration officials at Montreal that he holds a through liticket to France or St. Petersburg, as he maintains, he will be arrested and sent back to Chicago as quickly as the machinery of the law will permit.

Further, if Johnson holds a ticket, he must use it without delay. This sannouncement was made to-day by the Canadian immigration department after the receipt of a telephonic request from the United States vice-consul in Montreal that the negro be deported.

Johnson came into Canada through Windsor, Ont., last Wednesday. No official word had been received that ha had been convicted of crime, and he met the immigration requirements.

Montreal, June 27.—Johnson was notified by the police this afternoon that provided he kept his word and left. Canada within a day or so he would not be arrested. He asserted that he did not intend to run away, and was ready to give himself up to the authorities if they wanted him, otherwise he would sail for Europe on Sunday. Washington, D. C., June 27.—Jack Johnson has made good his escape from the United States, for the time being at least, and can neither be extradited nor deported from Canada, according to the latest official advices here. Johnson, it has been learned here, is travelling on a tourist ticket, and Canada cannot return him because her immigration law does not exclude a transient alien in such circumstances.

Johnson's offence is not extraditable in Canada. Officials here were making an effort to-day to have the negro returned to this country under Canadian immigration laws, but it has failed.
If the United States circuit court of appeals sustains Johnson's conviction, his one-year sentence for violating the white slave law will be enforcible any time he returns to the United States.

It is expected that the incident will be the subject of future representations by the Japanese ambassador as soon as he has been advised by the acting Japanese consul-general at San Francisco of all the facts. It will be incumbent on Secretary Bryan to transmit any complaint to Governor Johnson, with an intimation that the president relies on him to see that justice is done to allens within the United States under the terms of existing treaties. Beyond that it is scarcely possible for the national government to go, at this stage at least, though later it may become necessary to ask congress to indemnify those Koreans who have suffered any financial loss.

Secretary Bryan said to-day that the state department would make an immediate investigation of the incident. The only information thus far received was in the press dispatches.

ORGANIZED LABOR IN CANADA-INCREASING

Membership in 1912 as 160,120 Persons

Ottawa, June 27.—The second annual report on labor organization in Canada, covering 1912, has been issued by the Department of Labor. From the introductory pages it is noted that trade union membership, in common with other activities of industrial life in Canada during the past year, increased considerably during the year 1912. At the end of 1911 the membership was reported at 133,132; at the close of 1912 it stood at 180,120.

Much interesting information is given as to the classes of labor chiefly affected or unaffected by organization. The compilers of the report estimate the proportion of organized labor in Canada at about 8 per cent of the whole number of wage-carners, the total of which is placed at 1,300,000. Not much organization, the report states, is found among women workers.

A chapter of the report is devoted to a discussion of the beneficiary systems of trades unionism. Not all the unions have reported on this subject, but the information collected shows the wide and important influence which organized labor of North America plays in this department of industrial life. The beneficiary expenditures of sixty-eight of the international central trade union organizations operating in the United States and Canada are shown to be of great magnitude. The grand total of the disbursements of these organizations for the last fiscal year reported (usually 1911-12), is placed at $13,798,000, more than half of this amount being on account of death claims. The largest expenditures reported for an individual organization is that recording on account of death claims. The largest expenditures reported for an individual organization is that recorded for death benefits in the case of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, where the disbursements reached $1.869,934. While returns were not received from all central organizations operating in the Dominion and the United States taken together, the returns for Canada alone not being available.

United States taken together, the returns for Canada alone not being available.

The report gives some attention to new movements in labor organization, known respectively as Industrial Unionism and Syndicalism. The first-named, which has been endorsed by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, looks to the closer federation or actual consolidation of all craft unions. Syndicalism, represented by the Industrial Workers of the World, and which has already figured in extensive industrial struggles in Canada, is opposed to old-line trade unionism, and is described as "frankly revolutionary" in character, a statement which seems to be fully borne out by the preamble of the I. W. W. constitution.

The report throws light on many aspects of those industrial problems to which the social student and investigator is now more and more 'ning his attention. It serves at the same time to meet the requirements of a wider constituency, viewed as a directory of trade unions for the Dominion for the year 1913; the directory features include particulars of every known trade union in Canada, together with the names and addresses of the exequitive officers of each separate body appearing in Canadain trades unionism, the total number of organizations concerning which these details are given being considerably over two thousand.

FRIEDMANN CURE IS REPORTED UN

Dr. McPhedran Heard on Appendicitis at Canadian Medical Association Meeting to, occupied the attention of the Candian Medical Association yesterday. It was a meeting of the combined sections, and many important points in relation to stomach diseases were brought out by the various speakers.

Dr. McPhedran termed the present age the surgical one in treatment of stomach diseases, but recent advances in abdominal treatment had been greater in physiology than in surgery.
"I think that in a good many cases," said Dr. McPhedran, "where surgeons open the stomach and look at the appendix they find it quite healthful. Of course, though, they remove the appendix on principle, and sometimes the patient feels much better."
In order to allay public excitement and to afford to the medical profession and the people of Canada, authoritative statement regarding the value of Dr.
Friedmann's treatment, the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis nominated a committee of flye members to study and report upon

As a result of the observations from March 21 to the present, the following conclusions seem justified:

APPARELLED GAILY AT SPIRITUALIST'S BURIAL

Manchester, Eng., June 27.—More like a picnic than a funeral was the burial of Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips, 79 years old, who for years was one of England's leading spiricualists.

By Mrs. Phillips' request there were no signs of mourning. Relatives and friends wore bright colored clothes and the hearse was draped in white and decorated with flowers.

Coachmen wore liveries which they usually wear for a wedding and the dead woman's son, who read the service, wore a flower in his buttonhole.

The colonel knows that he must justify that estimate of eleven million dollars a generous parliament has just voted the fusilade his party directed against his predecessor for extravagantly deshow that the necessities of the situation now are nearly twice as pressing as they were two short years ago.

To be fair, however, we must admit that the colonel never criticized the late government because of the extent of its warlike preparations. He was a lone supporter of the Ross rifle con-tract on the opposition side when all his colleagues were howling for Sir Frederick Borden's scalp. We hear no more of the "outrageous Ross rifle transaction" from the opponents of this arm. From the treasury benches they they were blind, now they see; and the factory at Quebec continues to

A FORGOTTEN CHAPTER

Amendment Act Recalls
Mayor's Letter.

trust, application was made to the provincial government by resolution passed last July to amend the original act so that the land could be retransferred to the government in the indirect method.

When Mayor Morley returned to office he at once pointed out in a lengthy communication to the council that it was alienating an interest in valuable property, but the majority of the aldermen took sides against him, declaring it would be an act of repudiation to go back on the arrangement already reached and they succeeded in preventing any change being carried out in the plan adopted last year. Now the formal proclamation bringing the enactment into force is advertised.

yer, and a remand until to-morrow was granted,

He then asked that he be allowed bail, as his job was waiting for him, and on the city prosecutor saying that he did not think the case was one where the man should be allowed at liberty pending the hearing of the case, he decided that he would conduct his own case and go on at once.

Mrs. Buck informed the court that if her husband was allowed to be out she would come in to the police station with her children for protection. The magistrate remanded the case until the morning, despite Buck's protest, and he was marched back to jail without being given the chance he seemed to want to appeal to his wife to call off the prosecution.

SENTENCED IN WINNIPEG.

Former Victoria Boy is Given a Heavy Sentence for Burglary in Prairie City.

In Winnipeg yes erday a Victoria boy, Herbert Bray, was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary for burglarizing fashionable homes along Roslyn road in the Fort Rouge dis-

Rosiyn road in the Fort Rouge district.

Bray is a lad of nineteen, and he confessed to the crimes for which he was sentenced, as well as to having acted the highwayman, in Ottawa he was convicted of a theft of jewelry from the store of Henry Birks and Sons, and put in a term in the reformatory. He was caught in the act of committing the Winnipeg offence for which he has been sent up.

The lad lived here for some time with his parents. While here a medical certificate was given of his mental incompetency fin order that he might be placed in the New Westminster hospital for mental defectives, but he was not sent there. It is said by the city police who knew him that he is not entirely responsible, and it is supposed that it is ignorance of this fact that has led to such a heavy sentence being imposed by the Winnipeg court.

of Former Building.

City Assessor Northcott was called at the Finklestein arbitration proceedings this morning to assess the value of the property required to be removed in the widening of Douglas street, for which Mr. Finklestein is claiming compensation, and also to state the time which would be consumed in replacing the building. His figure of $4,500 was $500 less than the city was prepared to pay on this item.

The arbitrators are Hugh Kennedy, for the city; J. J. Shallcross for the owner; and R. S. Day as umpire. E. V. Dodwell, K. C., appears for the owner and City Solicitor Robertson for the city.

Empress of India Berths From Orient This Morning: Many Saloon Travellers

The white liner arrived at the outer locks at 6 o'clock this morning, and the master of the ship said that he would have brought his command into Victoria yesterday afternoon had it not been for the disagreebale weather met during the early part of the voyworth over $1,000,000. The rich material will be sent to New York.

By not being able to pass quarantine last evening the Empress lost about eight hours. Capt. Halley tried hard to reach the station before 1 o'clock, but darkness had shut dawn before the white liner finally came to an anchorage in the roadstead. Dr. Watt, however, rose with the sun this morning and boarded the Empress to grant her a clean bill of health about 4.30 o'clock.

The Empress of India brought in 75 saloon passengers, one of the largest lists that the small white liners have brought in for some time. Travel from the Orient at this season of the year is exceedingly heavy, and the C. P. R. boats are receiving the lion's share of the business. The first-class passengers were as follows: J. S. Arden, A. W. Aubertin, A. Barthelemy, Mrs. H. O. Bellingham, Mr. and Mrs. Bergtheill, Miss E. I. Burroughes, Miss E. M. etcliner, Sche will be in port about two days loading 1,500 tons of cargo.

TEES' STRANDING IS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Capt. Chas. Eddie Arrives to Hold Preliminary Inquiry Into Recent Mishap

Capt. Chas. Eddie, examiner of mates and masters, arrived in town yesterday afternoon from Vancouver to make arrangements for the holding of a preliminary inquiry into the stranding of the C. P. R. steamer Tees in Franklin creek, Alberni canal, about two months ago. It is understood that the investigation, which has been ordered by the Dominion government, will be started on Monday next in the post office.

on atonasy next in the post office.

The Tees at the present time is away on a trip to Holberg and other wes coast ports. The is expected back to morrow. Capt. Eddle hopes to ge started on Monday morning and th hearing should be completed by the afternoon. The stranding was not a serious one as the steamer was unintured through her bump. Eddle

It will be reinembered that the Tees was on her way out of Franklin creek, after landing supplies for the railway contractors, on an exceedingly dark night. Two large acetylene lights which are used on shore to furnish light for the men who work by night laying the rails, blinded the navigators and they were unable to make out the shore lines. The Tees struck hard but the bottom was sandy and her plates were uninjured. The salvage steamer Salvor hauled the Tees off and she continued on her trip to Clayoquot.

Late to-night the C. P. R. steamer Princess May, Capt. McLeod, is de-arting for Prince Rupert and Skag-way. The May is taking out a big list of passengers and a light cargo.

After bunkering on the Sound the British freighter Lord Derby, Captain Fellows, passed out at Tatoosh yester-day afternoon bound for Portland, where she will load grain for the United Kingdom

TWO FREIGHTERS HAVE HUGE SHIPMENTS OF GRAIN BAGS

Portland, June 27.—Aboard the Royal Mail steamer Falls of Orchy and the Hamburg - American liner Saxonia, both of which are scheduled to arrive in the local harbor this week, are 1,799,000 grain bags, in which 3,598,000 bushels of wheat may be placed, consigned to Portland importers. This is the largest quantity of gunnles to be brought in this season, and will be used for sacking the new-crop wheat produced in the Inland Empire.

The grain bags are from Calcutta, and consist of 1,799 bales, each sontaining 1,000 sacks, of which 899 bales are on the Falls of Orchy and 900 bales on the Saxonia. In India they are valued at $70 a bale, making the 1,799 bales worth $129,930.

The tariff collections on the importation will net the United States government something like $31,500. In addition to an ad valorem duty of its per cent there is a straight duty of seven-eights of a cent a pound on grain bags. The two are equivalent to about $17,50 a bale.

COAST CLUBS TO PLAY TO-MORROW

Big Crowd is Looked for at Pro. Lacrosse Match at Oak Bay

Everything is ready at Oak Bay for the clash between the Vancouver and Westminster teams to-morrow afternoon in the first of the three scheduled professional coast league fixtures which will be played in the Capital this summer. Messrs. Bob Dewar and Fred Cullen will likely officiate as referees, while the teams will arrive from the Mainland on the special boat that has been chartered as an excursion craft from Vancouver. Tickets for the match are selling fast, and as a special space has been roped off for autos, from which the occupants of the machines may have a good view of the game, one of the biggest sporting crowds of the year is looked for.

Con. Jones, president of the Vancouver club, will arrive in Victoria this evening, and he is confident that the Terminals can win. He will probably have Harry Hyland on the green shirted attack. Billy West will also make his reappearance on the team, but it is altogether likely that he will be played at centre. He has played coverpoint this season and most of last year, but he is one of the best fielders in the game and starred with the Vancouver club in this position when they won the world's championship.

The Royals will rely on the same twelve which has taken the measure of the Vancouvers os successfully in the last few games. Tommy Glifford has his men out practising daily as he has a hard schedule in sight during the next two weeks. The team plays in Victoria Saturday and then clashes with the Vancouvers at Hastings Oval on July 1 and 5.

The New Westminster champions will probably travel to Victoria by the special steamer leaving here on Saturday and then clashes with the Vancouvers will be passengers on the same boat, while the supporters of both teams will go over in force. The Princess Royal leaves at 6 clock in the morning, returning the same night.

Wimbledon, Eng., June 27.—The first break in the ranks of the victorious quartette of American players in the tenth some and the source of the power of the morning when Craig Biddle, of Philadelphia, went down before W. Ingram, one of the young representatives of the British talent. The victory was an easy one, the score being 6-3, 6-2, 1-6, 6-1. Ingram was a model of steadiness in placing, while the American's strokes tacked their usual power.

The captain of the Canadian Davis cup team, R. B. Powell, also falled against Hope Crisp, a student of Cambridge University, the score being 6-4, 7-5, 6-2. Oscar Kreutzer, one of the crack players of the German Davis cup team, beat A. W. Gore, former English champion, three sets to one, the score being 3-6, 7-5, 6-2, 6-0.

Wallace F. Johnson, of Philadelphia, quickly followed his compartiot into retirement, being beaten by the Eng-tish player, R. Watson, 2-6, 8-5, 6-1, 7-5, Later in the afternoon, R. Norris Williams after playing three sets against Maurice E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, retired in favor of his colleague on the United States Davis Cup team. The American champion is thus left alone of the United States Davis Cup team. The American champion is thus left alone of the United States Davis Cup team. we feel that we ought to have had that applause.

But the applause did not belong to us because we were not brave enough to be our real selves. Doubtless many off the people who applauded that speech at the theatre so heartlly did so just because they recognized their own hidden sentiments.

Most of us have real worth-while thoughts and ideas inside of us, but only a few dare to bring them out. And that is one of the reasons why there are only a few successful men and women in the world.

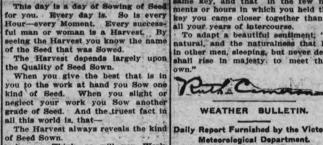

It is very hard for anyone to accomplish much in this world unless he is expressing himself in his daily work. Whatever we can do, we can do it best if we are natural. Anyone who spends his life imitating others and trying to conform to some general type, may J. S. Roblin, of Toronto, is staying at his life imitating others and trying to conform to some general type, may win some smeasure of success but it will never be as much as he could have won if he had been himself. You see he is eternally hampered. He is like an engine that must use the larger part of its energy overcoming defects within its own mechanism.

Be yourself, be natural. In your intercourse with other people try to talk and act yourself. Say and do the different things you think of. I most emphatically don't mean that you shall Mrs. Lodge, who has been visiting Mrs. R. E. White, of 126 Horne street, has returned to her home in Calgary, Alta.

Two Ylctoria girls will act as bridesmaids at a wedding to be celebrated next Tuesday morning at Tacoma, when Miss Christen Cecilia Moore will be married to Mr. Charles A. McHugh at the Holy Rosary church. The bridesmaids will be the Misses Sylvia and Bessie Coyne, of this city, and Basil McHugh and James Shannon will be the groom's attendants. phatically don't mean that you shall deliberately try to be odd and original. Such forced originality is more artifi-cial than any conventionality, but be natural and simple; be yourself. And natural and simple; be yourself. And not only will you get, more out of life that way, but you will help other peo-ple to get more. For, if you are natural you will teach other men to be. Surely you have sometimes had the experi-ence of striking a natural note with some friend with whom your relation had formerly been stereotyped and conventional, and of finding that he caught the note and responded in the same key, and that in the few moments or hours in which you held that he you came closer together than in key you came closer together than in all your years of intercourse.

To adapt a beautiful sentiment, "Be natural, and the naturalness that lies in other men, sleeping, but never dead, shall rise in majesty to meet thine own."

The Harvest always reveals the kind of Seed Sown.

As you Think, so will you Work. Every effort is a Seed of some sort or other. If it is an honest, enthusiastic, full hearted effort, its result at Harvest time will be great. And an abundance of these kinds of Seed, means an abundant Harvest.

In the Sowing of Seeds it is most important to Sow them in the most fertile ground.

You will gain the most out of life by expending your energies and talents where they will count for the largest results. Work where your interest is greatest, and where your Heart throbs warmest. And as you Sow your Seeds of Smiles and Cheer and Service keep constantly in mind that—
The more Seed you Sow, the greater will be your Harvest.

However, yesterday was a day of preliminaries, of arrivals of men and bagyage, and of settling down for the training. Both by sea and land the regiments reached Sidney, and they presented a very effective appearance as they marched down the streets of the town to the camping ground, which lies just south of the buildings on Orchard street. Among the numerous accessories of equipment were the two field guns brought into camp, the Seaforths having a horse maxim and the Sixth a hand maxim. The respective regimental strengths in camp are: Sixth, 213 strong; Seaforths, 239, with 45 to arrive later; 104th, 192; and 88th, 130.

Lieut.-Col. Leckie, commanding the Seaforth Highlanders, as senior officer, has charge of the units on the Princess Royal, which drew off the wharf soon after three o'clock. For two hours after debarkation the various baggage units, were going forward to camp. The 88th Fusiliers and the headquarters officers had already taken up their positions, the former having arrived by special train in the morning.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

Some eight years ago a young French surgeon, fresh from his native iand, arrived in Montreal. He was dignified and reserved, and in Lyons, France, he had achieved a local reputation as a daring and skillful operator and a man of original ideas, but he was young—impossibly young. So Montreal didn't enthuse over the arrival of Dr. Alexis Carrel, who quietly engaged in laboratory work in McGill University. From the Canadian metropolis the young Frenchman went to the University of Chicago. Then, four years ago, he was engaged as an associate member of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, and things began to happen.

"The wizard of surgery," "the supreme master of the lancet and scalpel," is no venerable graybeard, for he will celebrate his fortieth birthday tomorrow. He was born in Sainte Foy les Lyon, France, June 28, 1873, and was educated at the University of Lyons. For some time he was an interne in a Lyons hospital, and later a member of the medical faculty of his aims mater. His surgical skill was manifested early in his career, but when he left Lyons for Montreal nohe of his associates. Greamed that he would soon be famous throughout the world as the recipient of a Nobel prize for the most notable discoveries in medicine and surgery. When the news of his stupendous achievements reached France, the physicians of that country were amazed and sceptical, and one great French surgeon denounced him as an "imposter." Since then Dr. Carrel has lectured before the leading medical organizations of his native land, and has convinced the doubting Thomases that the honors showered upon him were not unearned, holidays will be the rule. The usual closing exercises marked the occasion in most of the public schools of the city, and some of the private schools also closed for the holidays to-day. Speeches and sports accompanied the exercises.

Of the city school functions the most important were those at the Boys' Ceneral school and at Sir James Douglas school, where Lieut.-Governor Paterson presented his shields for singing. The junior shield was given to the former school, and Sir James Douglas school, which has at length wrested the honor from South Park, took the sentor trophy.

City Superintendent Paul visited a number of the schools, together with George Jay, the chairman of the board.

The High school examinations commence in the various centres in an-

Raising melons for the market is the summer occupation of William Louis Courtieigh, the famous Canadian actor. He was born in Guelph, Ont., June 28, 1889, and will celebrate his forty-fourth birthday to-day on his melon farm at Sag Harbor, where he is a neighbor of Farmer "Bob" Edeson and Farmer "Billy". Farnum. While a native of Canada, Mr. Courtleigh was reared and educated in St. Louis, where he studied law. His first professional stage appearance, a quarter of a century ago, was in a road company that produced a melodrama he had written, entitled "Brother and Sister." Since then he has become a star, and has been honored by his fellow players with election to the presidency of the Actors' Society af America.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN

This date in the year 1873 was the concluding one of a three days. "Dog Feast" in Manitoba, notable because it was the last ever held within the limits of the present city of Winnipes. "On that occasion," writes Dr. Begs, in his "Ten Years in Winnipes," "two hundred Indians assembled at Point Douglas and induiged in the occidental delicacy of roast dog." When first disciplination of the control of the contro the religious forces of the Dominion.

Major-General Sir William Fenwick Williams of Kars, a Canadian who gained high place in the army of the mother country, began his military career eighty-eight years ago to-day. He was born in Halifax, N. S., in 1800, the son of Thomas Williams, commissary general at Annapolis Royal, Novel Scotia, and grandson of Edward Amherst, the brother of Jeffrey, the first Lord Amherst, After serving in Cépion and Turkey, he gained fame by his defence of the Armenian town of Kars. Under his guidance the Turkish garrison kept the Russians at bay during a protracted siege, but eventually had to capitulate owing to cholere and starvation. General Williams was made a baronet, and afterwards returned to his native country as commander of the forces in British North America.

Napoleon and Prince Metternich.

Metternich to anger.

"Let us open the doors, sire!" he cried. "And if the doors are not sufficient, open the windows! that the whole of Europe may hear you."

Napoleon, in the Leipsic campaign, had defeated the Russians and Prussians at Lutzen, and again at Bautzen. Yet none knew better than he that he was facing the crisis of his career. England, Russia, Prussia, and Sweden were banded against him, declaring war to the death. Austria was lukewarm. The Emperor, for all his warlike talk, was beginning to long for peace. He hoped much from that interview with Metternich a century ago to-day. He was disappointed.

peace. He hoped much from that interview with Metternich a century ago to-day. He was disappointed. Austria would keep peace with France, Matternich said, only if Napoleon would restore Illyris and the Polish provinces, would send the Pope back to Rome, abandon the protectorate of the Confederation of the Rhine, restore Naples and Spain and evacuate Germany and Holland. Napoleon was furious, amazed, indignant. He had awaited the interview with Metternich with ill-concealed eagerness. He saw all his hopes crumble as the calm and dignified Austrian announced his terms. He few into anger. Eyes blazing, he shook his fist in Metternich's face. demanding: "How much has England given you to play this role against me?" Another incident added to Napoleon's frenzy. He dropped his hat. He expected Metternich to plck it up. The Austrian made no move. Pale with anger, Napoleon stared at the hat, then at Metternich, The Austrian permitted the flicker of a smile to curi the corners of his lips. The Emperor kicked the hat savagely, like a spoiled child. The interview over, Metternich, in HEISTERMAN

Stefansson Leaves.—V. Stefansson, leader of the Canadian Arctic expedition, left this city yesterday afternoon for Seattle, where he will be joined to-morrow by Dr. R. M. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson and James Murray and Mrs. Murray. Together they will leave by steamer Victoria on Tuesday morning for Nome where they will join the Karluk.

Empire Defence.—Sir Ian Hamilton, speaking to a Times representative this morning, stated that the occasion of his present visit to the coast was to extend the unification of the systems under which overseas troops are trained, and he was glad to note that since the visit of General French the systems were beginning to approximate more closely to a general system throughout the Empire.

O O O

Camp in interior.—It was stated in a well-informed source this morning that the next infantry brigade camp in this military district will probably go to some interior town, on account of the rapid settlement of the coast, which makes it more difficult to secure large enough training grounds. The other units train mostly in centres like Vernon, and the Nicola valley is spoken of as a probable location in the present instance.

finished.

During the year the work has increased considerably over that of any previous year. The number of patients admitted to the hospital was 1,636, an increase of 326 over that of 1912. To accommodate this number an extra supply of beds was purchased, thereby increasing the pressure of the work in the public wards, already overcrowded. The daily average number of patients treated was 98.2, exceeding by 17 the daily average of last year. Our highest daily average for one month was 107, and our lowest 86, the last number being equal to the highest of the previous year. The average days' stay of each patient was 20.

canal pictorially have been made in pages reproduced here, directly from color photographs. They give the very atmosphere of the work, and the strikjng contrasts of tropical vegetation with great gashes through the mountains and huge steam-shovels at work.

Ex-Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson leads the number with a very lucid description of why the canal must be fortified. He shows how complete control with military and naval defence is necessary in order to make good our guarantee of commercial neutrality.

to the United States.

The two great serials continue to be widely commented upon. Mrs. Wharton's "The Custom of the Country" has had three leading editorials in New York papers-recently, and Undine Spragg has become a national character in fiction. In this number she is deep in the valley of adversity and indecision.

indecision.

The second episode in Galsworthy's B. C. City & man's love story, "The Dark Flower," has a tragic intensity that he has seldom attained in previous writings. Mrs. Andrews, whose single short stories have a way of becoming famous books, contributes a college reunion story. "Amic!," which describes the thirty-year men in the good-fellowship of their reunion at Yale.

Deputation Waits on General Hamilton and Colonel Hughes to Discuss Project

An interesting deputation waited on General Sir Ian Hamilton and Colonel the Hon. Sam Hughes this morning at 8 o'clock at the Empress hotel, the following gentlerien composing the party: Capt. Chambers, Dr. Donald, Dr. Milne, P. J. Riddle and C. A. Forsythe. The purpose of the visit, which was to consult with General Sir Ian, and with the minister of militia with reference to the formation of a Highland regiment in Victoria, and to discover, if possible, whether he as a representative of the Dominion government would give his sanction and support to the proposal, had previously been signified, and little time was wasted in preliminaries. Saturday Night ined, and interest inclinations.

Both the General and Colonel Hughes expressed themselves as being enthusissically in favor of the formation of the regiment in question, and promised to do their utmost to help along the organization of such a body in Vic-vancouver and minion.

Referring to the matter of uniforms, Colonel Hughes was asked by the deputation if it would facilitate the arrangements at Ottawa if a second

Mr. Goward pointed out that had been running - week but rely on him absolutely to use his every influence at Ottawa headquarters for the encouragemin of the proposed Victoria regiment of Gordon Highlanders. The members of the deputation in question are absolutely confident that the regiment will be enlisted within 60 days of its formation, and every effort will be made to secure the funds necessary to provide the equipment. The initial expense, they estimate, will be somewhat heavy, owing to the expensive nature of the dress and accourtements, but following on the General's recommendation that the time is particularly favorable, Captain Chambers and those supporting him will proceed at once with the plan of organization. The regiment would require 412 men, but so popular is the idea that already a number of Englishmen have applied to be admitted to the ranks along with their Scotch cousins, and the leaders of the movement anticipate little or no trouble in making up the requisite number within a very short time of a definite announcement to the effect that the project is to be carried through.

expressed themselves as being enthusiastically in favor of the formation of the regiment in question, and promised to do their utmost to help along the toria.

The deputation then introduced the question of finance, which has been one of the principal problems in connection with the matter, and General Hamilton stated that if such a regiment were organized in Victoria it would receive just the same encouragement as the kilted regiments in Vancouver and elsewhere in the Dominion.

Referring to the matter of uniforms, Colonel Hughes was asked by the leputation fit would facilitate the work in the requests of the deputation from Ward Four, Saanich municipality, which waited on him this morning, Local Manager A. T. Goward, of the B. C. Electric Railway, gave a sympathetic ear and promised consideration of their applications.

On behalf of the committee, which is seeking workmen's trains between the hours of 8 an 9 a. m. and 5 and 7 p. m., a straight rate to Wilkinson, and commutation tickets, Ernest Kennedy pointed out that the workmen, most of whom had bought homes in the district, not of a speculative class, desired special trains to reach and leave their work in the rush hours and conces-
